AJ Lee & Blue Summit started out as a group of bluegrass festival-going hooligans who loved to hang out and jam. Fueled by the powerfully sweet and recognizable voice of seven-time NCBS award winning vocalist and IBMA 2017 Momentum Vocalist nominee AJ Lee, along with the masterful instrumental work of the band, Blue Summit has created an exciting repertoire of originals and covers spanning many genres including bluegrass, folk, Americana, western swing, and blues. In addition to AJ on mandolin and vocals, the band includes Sullivan Tuttle (guitar, vocals), Isaac Cornelius (standup bass, vocals), Sam Kemiji (fiddle, vocals), and Jesse Fichman (guitar, vocals). (Sam Kemiji is not able to be at SCVFA for this event.)

The San Francisco Chronicle says "while AJ Lee is only 19 years old, she's been the new face of bluegrass for more than a decade." AJ made local bluegrass history this summer when she performed on the first-ever bluegrass float in the San Francisco Pride Parade.
